You have the right to make written request within a reasonable time period for a disclosure of additional information concerning the nature and scope of the investigation. (See Disclosure Notice.)

NOTICE TO APPLICANT

Fair Credit Reporting Act and Privacy Act Pre-Notification

The application you completed for insurance with us, in most cases, gives us all the information we need. In certain cases, we may need more information.

If we need more information, we may get it by talking to other persons you know including, but not limited to, your agent or other insurance companies you have applied to. We may ask an independent "consumer reporting agency" to help us verify facts or get additional facts.

We may collect information covering your health, job and financial situation, as well as your character, general reputation and mode of living. We will not collect information relating to your sexual orientation.

The personal information we obtain about you is treated as confidential and will not be disclosed to other persons or organizations without your written authorization except to the extent necessary, as permitted by law, for the conduct of our business. But any information collected by a "consumer reporting agency" may be shared by the agency with others who use such information, but only to the extent which the Fair Credit Reporting Act permits.

You have a right of access, and right of correction, concerning recorded personal information obtained in our file. In order to exercise these rights, you must contact us in writing requesting access or correction. You have no access right to privileged information. If we use a "consumer reporting agency," you have the right to: (1) ask to talk to them and (2) ask them about their report. You may write us for the name and address of the agency. This paragraph is not intended as a complete description of your right access and correction. If you would like a more complete description of our insurance information and Privacy Protection Practices, please write Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Company, 1275 Milwaukee Avenue, Glenview, IL 60025.
